

Threat Of New Demonstrations In Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — The threat of renewed demonstrations hung over this city today as a state-proposed mediating committee delayed stepping into the racial dispute.

Negroes called off further demonstrations Thursday when State Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan said the racial relations committee of the Maryland Bar Association would try to find a common ground for agreement.

Finan said the lawyers' group would come to Cambridge by Saturday at the latest.

Not Contacted

However, William McWilliams, chairman of the committee, said he had not been contacted by either Finan or the governor's office about the committee's role before he read about it in the newspaper Thursday morning.

McWilliams, an Anne Arundel County lawyer and former judge, said his group would meet Wednesday in Baltimore to decide whether or not it would enter the Cambridge picture.

Finan bemoaned the misunderstanding saying:

"I had been contacted by the president of the bar association about the existence of such a committee and that they could help in racial matters and they would be glad to do so," Finan said.

Stanley Branche, field secretary of the NAACP from Chester, Pa., and leader in the Cambridge integration movement, declined to comment until he talked with McWilliams who was out of town Thursday night.

Governor To Speak

Gov. J. Millard Tawes announced he will address the people of Maryland tonight over radio and television on the racial problems confronting the state.

There were indications that the governor would discuss the feasibility of having the National Guard stationed in Cambridge to keep the peace. Guards have been kept in an uneasy state since July 12 after six persons were wounded during a night of racial violence.

Tawes has estimated that the state must spend $25,000 a week to maintain these troops. Should the guard be federalized, the national government would take over the guard's operating expenses.

1st Eclipses Since 1930 On Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time since 1930 a total eclipse of the sun will cut a path of night-in-day shadow across the whole North American continent Saturday.

But unless you have proper equipment, scientists say, the best and safest way to watch will be on television. Direct viewing can cause permanent eye damage from infrared rays.

Records of the Naval Observatory here show total eclipses visible in sections of the United States and Canada in 1932, 1945

Local Time

In the Escanaba area the eclipse will begin about 3:30 p. m. Saturday and the sun will be more than 85 per cent covered. As the moon seems to blot out the face of the sun the day will suddenly develop an eerie nightlike quality.

and 1954. In those instances the cut-off of direct sunlight was incomplete except in limited strips. This time the shadow moves in and over Alaska and races all the way across to Bar Harbor, Maine.

The spectacular scientific show will be brief, from the start of the eclipse over Japan at dawn to 4:44 p. m. Eastern Standard Time on the Maine coast, about three hours later. And only in a 60-mile wide strip across Alaska, Canada and Maine will the eclipse be total.

Most Americans will only be able to see a partial eclipse. San Franciscans will see 34 per cent, New Yorkers 88.

Congress Urged To Back Kennedy In Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter P. Reuther urged Congress today to strengthen President Kennedy's civil rights program.

Among other things, he suggested direct payment of damages to persons discriminated against in public facilities.

"Not only the patron but the public-spirited proprietor will benefit from an enforceable public accommodations measure," Reuther told a House Judiciary subcommittee.

Reuther, president of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers, said the President's proposals provided "a strong first step" towards guaranteeing "all Americans equality in law and equality in fact."

He told the congressmen in his prepared statement:

Federal Registrars

"Your committee cannot do less than he has asked; we urge it to do more."

Among other proposals which Reuther said the group should add to the President's seven-point civil rights package were:

1. A federal fair employment practices commission;
2. Federal voting registrars "who will make the right to vote an American reality";
3. Broad authorization for the attorney general to "protect all constitutional rights of Negroes"; and

4. An immediate start in all school districts on desegregation.

The eclipse is caused by the moon passing between the sun and the earth, thus blocking the brilliant solar rays.

Besides television, another safe way too watch is to let the sun's image be projected through a hole in a piece of cardboard onto white paper. The viewer keeps his back to the sun.

Scientists will be busy studying the eclipse and its effects.

One group including astronaut Navy Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter, plans to trail the eclipse's shadow by jet plane as it races across Canada at 1,800 miles an hour.

Pictures of the cloud cover are to be taken from the United States' Tiros VI weather satellite, while radio waves will be scrutinized by the Canadian-built Alouette satellite.

Syria Executes Ten For Revolt

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Maj. Gen. Amin Hafez, the Syrian army strong man, announced today 10 persons implicated in an uprising Thursday against Syria's Ba'athist Socialist government have been tried and executed.

Radi Damascus broadcast Hafez's statement after a new curfew was clamped on the entire country and Syrians were warned to stay inside or be shot. The revolt had seemed too have pro-Nasser overtones.

"The picture is quite clear: Apparently, we will not reach agreement on the ban of underground nuclear tests at the present time. Nevertheless, the Soviet government considers that if an agreement is achieved on a ban for nuclear tests in the atmosphere, cosmic space and under water, there will be an important and useful step forward."

Bidding for easing of East-West tensions at a time when the Soviet Union remains heavily involved in a Communist family dispute with Red China, Khrushchev spoke at a friendship rally for visiting Hungarian Communist leader Janos Kadar.

In quick succession he: Revived a Russian offer of 1958 to permit foreign inspectors to take up station at Soviet airfields, railroad stations, highways and ports to prevent secret concentrations of troops for surprise attacks.

Proposed an exchange of inspection teams between Western troops in West Germany and Soviet troops in East Germany, adding that the Russians were ready to negotiate a reciprocal reduction in the number of those troops on both sides.

Insisted again on the signing of a peace treaty with Germany that would settle the status of West Berlin, but set no deadline.

National Disgrace

"Toward this end, we would urge that the committee consider, in addition to the sanctions now in the bill, providing that anyone who has been wrongfully excluded from a public facility be entitled to recover a flat sum in damages."

"Discrimination in public facilities has been a national disgrace for far too long," Reuther said.

"By ending it now, by protecting every human being from Maine to California against the colossal indignity of a refusal of service, the 88th Congress will only be catching up at long last with the 44th Congress."

That Congress passed a similar law in 1875, but it was declared unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1883.

Optimism Over Bomb Test Ban Expressed By K

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev expressed optimism today about the chances for a Big Three agreement in current negotiations on a limited nuclear test ban and said he would like to see outlawing of all such tests, including those underground.

The Soviet leader reiterated in a Kremlin speech that he wanted an East-West nonaggression pact. He did not insist that it be tied to the treaty being negotiated here to forbid nuclear test blasts in the air, outer space and under water.

This would seem to indicate that Khrushchev might be receptive to a countersuggestion made by President Kennedy through his special envoy, W. Averell Harriman, that the issue be handled through nonaggression declarations.

At the same time, Khrushchev again announced he was ready to permit Western inspection of vital military installations inside the Soviet Union as safeguard against concentrations for a surprise attack.

This was offered as a device for helping to ease world tensions and was not directly connected with the test ban treaty.

Speaking of the U.S., British and Russian test ban talks in Moscow, Khrushchev said:

"We are under the impression that there is hope now of achieving agreement on the banning of nuclear tests in the atmosphere, cosmic space and under water if, of course, there are no special changes in the positions of the American and British representatives."

"We would like to achieve such an agreement that would include the banning of all tests, including underground tests as well."

"It has been demonstrated by science and technique that the banning of all tests, including underground ones, can be controlled with the help of national technical means of detection which are at the disposal of nations now. But the representatives of the United States and England still insist on the necessity of international inspection. They do not want to give up their aspirations which, in reality, have nothing to do with the cessation of nuclear tests."

"Why and what for is this being done? In order to have the chance to carry out intelligence work?"

"The picture is quite clear: Apparently, we will not reach agreement on the ban of underground nuclear tests at the present time. Nevertheless, the Soviet government considers that if an agreement is achieved on a ban for nuclear tests in the atmosphere, cosmic space and under water, there will be an important and useful step forward."

Rackets Chief Faces Charges

DETROIT (AP) — The former chief of the State Police racket squad faced Recorder's Court examination today on charges he embezzled between $10,000 and $15,000 in money seized in gambling raids.

Detective Lt. Carl Robinson, 46, stood mute at his arraignment May 7. State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs said Robinson admitted he had been taking money "for several years."

Integration Stand

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Baptist Association has adopted resolutions saying that efforts to force racial integration are morally wrong and condemning the U.S. Supreme Court for outlawing enforced Bible reading in public schools.

The Association, which took its stand at its annual meeting Thursday, represents 100 churches of missionary Baptists in Florida.

War Isn't Necessary For Reds: Khrushchev

Civil Service Upholds Ouster Of Prison Guards

LANSING (AP) — The Civil Service Hearing Board today upheld the dismissal of two guards by the Corrections Department at Southern Michigan Prison after an escape of four convicts last April 23.

The dismissal action had been appealed to the commission by guards Elmer McClain, 59, of Hanover, and Lynwood Miller, 27, of Muskegon.

In its findings, the hearing board concluded that both guards "were seriously negligent or totally unsuited" for duties required of them because they counted three dummies placed in cells by the escapees on two prisoner counts.

Counted Dummies

The board found the guards counted dummies on two counts but that officers on the succeeding shift detected the dummies on their first count.

"The evidence indicates McClain and Miller had only two purposes in being employed in the cell block during hours when the inmates were locked in their cells," the board reported.

"They had to be alert to any security problem and they had to periodically determine each inmate was still in his cell."

Look For Man

"The prison order is the officers must look for human flesh or human movement as the first and most obvious method of determining that they are actually counting a man. The officers not had been fooled by the dummies which were in the different cells since it was known by all of the officers that they must see movement of flesh."

"The board must find that the employees were seriously negligent in their duties or were fully unsuited to the demands of the duties they must be able to fulfill."

Identify Body As Runaway's

PONTIAC (AP) — Police today identified a girl whose body was found in a shallow creek near here as Connie Crossland, 14, of Courtna.

Identification of the girl was made by her stepfather and mother.

Police said the girl, a ward of the Shiawassee County Probate Court, had been missing since July 2 when she ran away from the Jackson County Juvenile Home.

The girl's body was found Thursday under a bridge over Paint Creek in Orion Township, Oakland County pathologist, Dr. Richard E. Olsen, said Connie had been strangled.

A 10-foot length of manila rope had been knotted twice and wrapped six times around the victim's neck. The pathologist, Dr. Richard E. Olsen, said the girl's skull was fractured by an apparent sharp blow behind the right ear. There were three cuts on the back of her head.

A check of missing persons reports failed to provide clues to the girl's identity, said Oakland County Sheriff's Capt. Leo Hazen.

The young woman was between 17 and 20 years old, brown-haired, blue-eyed, and fair, Hazen said. She was 5-foot-1 and weighed 117 pounds. She was dressed in blue Bermuda shorts and a green print blouse. Her tennis shoes were found nearby, he said.

The body, lying face down in a foot of water near a narrow bridge that crosses Paint Creek in Orion Township, was discovered by a truck driver, Frank Suchy, of Detroit.

Dr. Olsen said it appeared the girl had been dead less than 24 hours.

Escape Balked

BERLIN (AP) — East German border guards fired 15 shots Thursday night and apparently frustrated an attempt to escape to West Berlin.

West Berlin police said they could not see whether anyone was injured. It appeared, however, that several persons were arrested.

Barn Door Locked After U.S. Grain Shipment Vanishes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. department has put a new lock on the barn door since 24 million bushels of American grain vanished in the sleight of hand of European trade.

The huge amounts of feed grain were destined for Austria but were last seen officially at West German ports.

Apparently the grain — purchased at a discount of 7.5 to 9 per cent — was diverted by the Austrian importing firms to more favorable markets in countries not eligible for the shipments, a violation of the contracts the importers had with the Agriculture Department.

Since discovery of the deal, the department has tightened its regulations requiring the buyers to prove the commodities reached their proper destination. The buyers must provide bonds to assure compliance.

Austria Dropped

Also, American officials in Vienna said Thursday that Austria has been dropped from the barter program involving industrial materials and surplus U.S. farm products pending clarification of what happened to the grain.

Barter deals involving surplus U.S. farm products are more or less sales deals. In the case of barter, the government gets paid in strategic materials instead of dollars and limits destination of the commodities to areas which otherwise would not buy the U.S. product.

In the case of the Austrian deals, which began in 1959, the department agreed with Austrian traders to sell them feed grains for strategic materials of equal value.

As the transactions went forward, the department provided the grain to the private concerns, which arranged for their shipment to German ports. The department in turn received payment in the strategic materials.

Importers On Trial

The department said it was supplied, as it had required, with documentary evidence the grain was shipped to the German ports for transport overland to Austria.

Department officials found later, after checking official licenses issued by Austria, that the licenses did not cover the full amount of grain that was supposed to have gone to that country. They began an investigation which still is continuing.

Seven Austrian importers are awaiting trial in their homeland accused of having mislabeled American grain or having diverted it to other countries.

The State Department said Thursday no American official was to blame in the grain diversion.

Gold Brick Gone

LONDON (AP) — A bar of pure gold disappeared Thursday night at London airport.

The bar, packed in a wooden box, vanished on a journey of a few hundred yards from the British European Airways warehouse to an airliner. The plane took off for Malta.

The gold was valued at $7,000.

China Challenge Issued By Soviet As Parley Fails

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev declared today a new world war is not necessary to build communism or speed up revolution. He said a nuclear war could destroy mankind and even those who survived might "envy the dead."

The Soviet leader laid down the blunt challenge to his Chinese Communist opponents — who believe revolutionary wars are inevitable — at a Kremlin friendship rally for visiting Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar.

As he spoke his aides were fighting the argument out with Chinese delegates at rapidly-collapsing peace talks at a suburban villa.

Khrushchev told 6,000 widely applauding persons at the rally that "a world war is necessary neither for the building of the socialism nor communism, nor for the acceleration of the world revolution."

He said that "the superiority of the forces of socialism, peace and democracy over the forces of imperialism, reaction and aggression is growing."

Peace Means Sighted

Without specifying how, Khrushchev insisted "a concrete possibility of preventing world war has appeared. And this is not merely a possibility, but a vital necessity for the peoples of the world."

Khrushchev said all the peoples of the world would break with capitalism sooner or later but "the victory of socialism in every given country is decided by the people of that country. This question cannot be solved by unleashing a world thermonuclear war."

This was a direct slap at Chinese views.

Obviously referring to the split with China, Khrushchev also said bitterly that those who dispute world communism are "playing into the hands of imperialism."

He repeated his pledge that "the Soviet Union will never be the first to use thermonuclear arms or to unleash a world war."

Khrushchev also accused the Chinese, in a long departure from his text, of attempting to revive "the cult of the personality" of Stalin.

"Some people want too return to those times when a worker went out to work and never knew whether he would return to his wife and children," he continued.

"We are arresting people and we will continue to arrest those who should be arrested," he said. But he said that his regime was not arresting people without good reason under the law.

Panic Averted

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A small army of newly hatched, mixed-up loggerhead turtles crawled the wrong way and almost wound up in a barroom.

About 100 of the turtles dug out of the sand where they had hatched. Instead of crawling right into the sea, as baby turtles are supposed to do, they walked away from it.

Too Often

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A man described as a good swimmer had been playing pranks on his friends by pretending to drown. He cried help again, his friends ignored him and he drowned Thursday.

Authorities said the victim, Elmo C. Scranton, 22, of Tampa, apparently got a stomach cramp and went down in 12 feet of water.

African Unity

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — The committee set up to establish a provisional secretariat for the organization of African unity began a two-week closed session here Thursday night.

Creation of the secretariat to advance African unity was ordered at the Addis Ababa conference of independent African nations in May.

City Abolishes Service Agency

The service department of the City of Escanaba will be abolished and its employees and responsibilities absorbed by other departments with approval of the City Council.

The Council action was taken last night upon the recommendation of City Manager George Harvey. Four men and one young woman are employed in the service department and they will be transferred to other departments. Customer service will not be impaired and no employee will lose his job, the Council was assured.

Bids were opened by the Council for a supply of steam plant coal and several vehicles.

Propose Millage Levy

Five bids for 5,200 tons of coal were referred to the steam and gas superintendent for recommendation; and two bids for vehicles (three one-half ton trucks and a sedan for the fire chief) were referred to the department heads for analysis and recommendation. Four bids were received on vehicles but two of the proposals were not accompanied by certified checks and the bids were rejected.

A study of the drainage problems of the area west of S. 23rd St. will be undertaken by the engineering department, following a request of some residents of the Willow Creek area to have the city fill in the Creek drainage ditch. The engineers recommended against filling in the ditch at this time.

Councilman George Rush suggested to the Council that it give consideration to millage proposals to finance the city's share of water main extensions and sewer projects applied for under the Accelerated Public Works Act. The city has not yet been officially notified of the approval of any of its projects.

The Council received a petition signed by about 30 residents of the Danforth area asking for improvements of the Danforth Road within the City of Escanaba. Escanaba's police chief advised the Council that a light at the curve at the west end is recommended, otherwise the road is safe if traffic operates in compliance with the posted speed limits. The light will be installed.

Give Light Standards

A donation of 15 light standards to Bay de Noc Community College was approved by the Council. Richard Rinehart, Bay College president, requested the standards, advising the Council that evening courses are planned and that the library will be open a night, requiring that the campus be lighted. The light standards are those removed by the city to be replaced by larger fixtures.

Adoption of a resolution by the Council expressed appreciation to Harold Cloutier, Centennial director, and to all individuals and organizations that participated in

Organization Displays For Sidewalk Day Sale

In addition to stores displaying merchandise in front of their establishments during Escanaba Sidewalk Day next week, organizations other than stores are invited to put up displays on the street.

Space for such displays will be set aside in the 1100, 1200 and 1300 blocks of Ludington Street. Representatives of organizations wanting to set up displays for the Sidewalk Day carnival are asked to get in touch with John Lasinski, Telephone ST6-3333.

Wednesday, July 24, will be the big day.

Ludington Street will be blocked off to traffic from Eighth to Fourteenth Street with the exception of Tenth Street, a temporary highway thoroughfare. Riding horses and ponies will be on Eighth and Ninth Streets of Ludington. Other entertainment is being planned.

Sidewalk Day plans were discussed at a meeting of the Escanaba Chamber Retail Merchants committee at Marco's yesterday.

Owner Is Killed In Plane Crash

WEST BRANCH (AP)—Howard L. Gentry Sr., 69, owner of H. L. Gentry Enterprises at Jackson Mich., was killed Thursday when his single-engine Cessna 195 crashed in a wooded area adjoining a landing strip at Sage Lake, about 15 miles northeast of here.

State Police said Gentry was alone in the plane, returning from a business trip to the family cabin near Sage Lake in Ogemaw County's Hill Township.

Gentry's wife, who was waiting for her husband at the landing strip, told police her husband's plane touched down, rolled a bit and then bounced into woods nearby. She said the plane was hidden by the trees and she couldn't determine exactly what happened.

Trooper Sidney Mitchell of the West Branch State Police Post said a power failure was believed to have caused the crash. Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators were expected to view the crash site today, Mitchell said.

Guidance Clinic Gets New Head

Frank J. Waitrovich, 32, of Niagara, Wis., has assumed his new duties as psychiatric social worker and supervisor of the Escanaba Area Branch of the Upper Peninsula Child Guidance Clinic at 1229 Sheridan Road.

Leroy Jones continues with the branch as clinical psychologist. He has been acting supervisor of the branch since the departure of Donald Kern in May, 1962.

The branch now is fully staffed again, being served on an itinerant basis of about twice a month by Dr. Elizabeth Kane, psychologist of the U. P. Clinic. The branch diagnoses and treats children with emotional disorders.

Waitrovich was born in Hartshorn, Okla., and moved to Wisconsin in 1935. He attended high school in Niagara and got his Bachelor of Arts degree at Northern Michigan University in 1958 and did his graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, which awarded him a Master of Science degree in social work.

He worked for the Travelers Aid Society in Milwaukee, the Catholic Social Welfare Bureau in Milwaukee and the Wisconsin State Welfare Department at Green Bay. He comes to Escanaba from Green Bay.

He is married to the former Mary Beyers of Marquette and they have three children, Thomas, 4; Lisa Ann, 2, and Mary Ann, 8 months. The Waitrovichs live at 702 2nd Ave. S.

Barnhart Named To Two National Safety Groups

B. N. Barnhart, Escanaba, safety manager of Clairmont Trans-Canada Co., has been named as a member of two committees of the American Trucking Associations' Council of Safety Supervisors.

Barnhart will serve on the National Truck Safety Contest Committee, and also on the Seat Belt Committee which will study the value of seat belts in trucks, and to consider other types of driver protection.

The Council is the trucking industry's official safety arm and the largest organization of its type in the country. Its membership is composed of some 3,000 truck fleet safety specialists in 39 state chapters.

Sportsmen's Day Slated July 28

Delta County Sportsmen's Club will hold its sixth annual Field Day and open house for the public on July 28 at the club grounds west of highway 2-41 and south of the Delta Nursing Home. Committee work in preparation for the event is now under way under the direction of Hal Meiers, general chairman.

The format of entertainment will, in general, follow that of other years. Chicken barbecue dinners will be served from 12 to 2 p. m. and there will be children's portions.

There will be a turkey shoot, trap and skeet shooting events and other sporting events.

An added feature this year will be a number of displays of sporting equipment.

Theresa Wils returned to Chicago Sunday after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Wils. Barbara Wils accompanied her to Chicago and will spend a week there.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coates of Minneapolis and Napoleon LaVergne of California visited Mr. and Mrs. William Trudell and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krouth.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carlson and family visited in Marquette Sunday with Stanley Butryn who is a patient at St. Luke's Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi LaVergne and Mrs. Louis Miron left Tuesday for their home in Plymouth after spending several weeks here.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Verbrigghe and family of Romley, visited Gabriel Cafmeyer and Mrs. Rene Verbrigghe.

Martha's Vineyard is said to have been named for the baby daughter of one of the sailors who explored it and for the many grapevines found there.

Ike Has Dinner With Scranton

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania dined together Thursday night at a stag dinner.

Political speculation began to circulate when news of the dinner leaked out, but a man who attended said:

"No political pronouncements were made there that will go down in history. In fact, Gen. Eisenhower and Gov. Scranton spent very little time together."

The dinner was at the home of Charles W. Wolf, attorney for the Adams County Republican organization, in New Oxford, 12 miles from Gettysburg where Eisenhower has his farm.

Scranton has been mentioned as a possible candidate in 1964 for the Republican presidential nomination.

Bridge Traffic Nearing Peak

SAULT STE. MARIE — The Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge is aiming toward its 500,000th vehicle sometime within the next three weeks, Secretary-Treasurer David W. Ripley said this week.

Ripley reported that total traffic since the bridge opened was 417,640 vehicles as of 8 a. m. Tuesday, with more than 4,000 crossing daily for the month of July.

At this rate the half millionth vehicle would be expected to cross the bridge in exactly three weeks from Tuesday, or on Aug. 6.

For the first 15 days of July, the total was 60,438 vehicles, of which 31,028 were northbound and 29,410 were southbound.

The difference of 1,613 vehicles in the northbound lines for the first 15 days of July indicates that more than 100 cars a day are entering Canada and exiting at some other place than the Sault.

Toll takers say that most of these are taking the Lake Superior Circle Tour from the Sault to Duluth. When asked if they wish a round trip ticket or a one-way, many drivers respond by telling the takers: "Make it a one-way, we're not coming back this way, we're going out to Duluth."

Other tourist indicators also are busy and building toward the August peak, according to a survey. The Soo Tour Trains are running 11 trips a day from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Mrs. Knutsen Dies In Detroit

Mrs. Lydia Knutsen, 72, widow of John Knutsen, and resident of Escanaba many years, died at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at Bright View Nursing Home in Detroit.

Mrs. Knutsen had made her home with a brother, Arnold Englund, 20234 Alcoa Ave., Detroit, the past year and a half.

She was born Feb. 10, 1892, in Ford River. She was a member of Bethany Lutheran Church.

The body will be brought to Escanaba and taken to the Anderson Funeral Home. Tentative arrangements are for friends to call at the funeral home after 4 p. m. Sunday, services Monday at 1:30 p. m. at the funeral home chapel, Pastor Walfrid Nelson of Bethany officiating, and burial in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Guard Is Rated Lower Under New Point System

CAMP GRAYLING (AP) — The Michigan National Guard goes home Saturday with its lowest Army rating in recent memory.

A new rating system, being employed for the first time this year, gave the guard 83 points out of a possible 100, with one more day to go.

The points, as scored by a team of 5th Army evaluators, usually are in the high 90's. The change in rating would not necessarily indicate poorer performance this year.

Under the old system, units were given 100 points and points were lopped off for deficiencies. Under the present system, they start with 75 points — considered average for regular Army and reserve units — and points are added for good performance.

A final rating was expected today.

College Building Being Renovated

The progress of construction and renovation in preparing Bay de Noc Community College for its opening next fall pleased the Board of Trustees, meeting in extra session last night at the College building.

The Board has met in a number of extra sessions since April of this year to establish all of the policies needed for operation of the college.

Upon the recommendation of Richard Rinehart, College president, the Board promoted John McGovern to the position of building superintendent and Ralph Rose to chief custodian, both promotions accompanied by increases in salary.

The Board established policies last night for operation of food services on a franchise basis, the college will operate its own cafeteria. Hot plate lunches and hot dishes will be offered and this service will be supplemented by vending machines during evening hours.

President Rinehart reported on the progress of the remodeling work. The carpenters, electricians, plumbers, masons, painters, glass workers, and experts on heating and ventilation are busy and it is planned to begin work soon on suspended ceilings and installation of asphalt tile and linoleum flooring. The college administration, with the assistance of interior decorators from the community, has established an overall color scheme and plan for the decor.

Construction is proceeding on all of the items required by the state fire marshal to permit the use of the first floor of the building. This includes work on sealing off openings, installation of fire doors, work on the ventilation system, removal of combustible wall finishes and elimination of all places where the electrical system created a hazard.

A tentative schedule of classes for the fall semester was presented for discussion by the Board and will be submitted to the faculty members for discussion. This schedule will be approved and published by the college in a short time. It includes evening classes.

President Rinehart stated that he had visited some of the universities in Michigan and reported that the universities have completely accepted the community college courses for transfer. The administrative offices of the universities, as well as their vice-presidents in charge of academic affairs, have examined the plans of Bay de Noc Community College and have approved the acceptance of students from the community college.

In other action last night the Board discussed plans for purchasing furniture and the awarding of scholarships.

A contract for floor coverings including asphalt tile, linoleum and miscellaneous coverings was awarded by the Board to the low bidder, Howes Paint & Floor Coverings, Escanaba. Hawes bid of $2,236.94 was the lowest of four received.

Myron Jackson New Commander Of Post 115

Members of Escanaba River Post 115, American Legion, installed Myron Jackson as their new commander during installation ceremonies Wednesday evening.

Fred Gasparick was the installing officer. He commended outgoing commander Gene Beck for his services to the club.

Other officers installed included: Bernie Thompson, 1st vice-commander; Warren Rose, 2nd vice-commander; Grant Peterson, Chaplain; Gene Beck, finance officer; Walter Anderson, sergeant at arms; Monroe Harrison, historian; and George Rappette Jr., service officer.

The August meeting will be held at the home of Earl Akin in Cornell.

Chairmen's Meeting

General chairman of the Rock Labor Day Festival, George Wein-gartner reports that there will be a meeting of all Labor Day Festival chairmen at the Lions club Monday, July 22, at 7 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Poro Jr. and family visited at the Herman Heikkila home. Poro, a nephew, has returned after three and one half years of being stationed on Guam. He will be stationed at the Great Lakes now. Jack Poro Sr. of Deerton also visited the Heikkilas.

Carol Niemela, Ellen Bakka, and Nancy Linjala returned Friday after attending Marquette County 4-H camp at Sawyer Lake near Republic.

Terttu Pahlva of Simo, Finland and Mrs. Lydia Hawes and daughters and Nello Huttula of Westminister, Mass., visited the Charles Salminen at Rock and Carl Salminen at Flat Rock.

June Kivela is working at Highland Park, Ill., for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koski and family have returned after visiting in Detroit and Lansing.

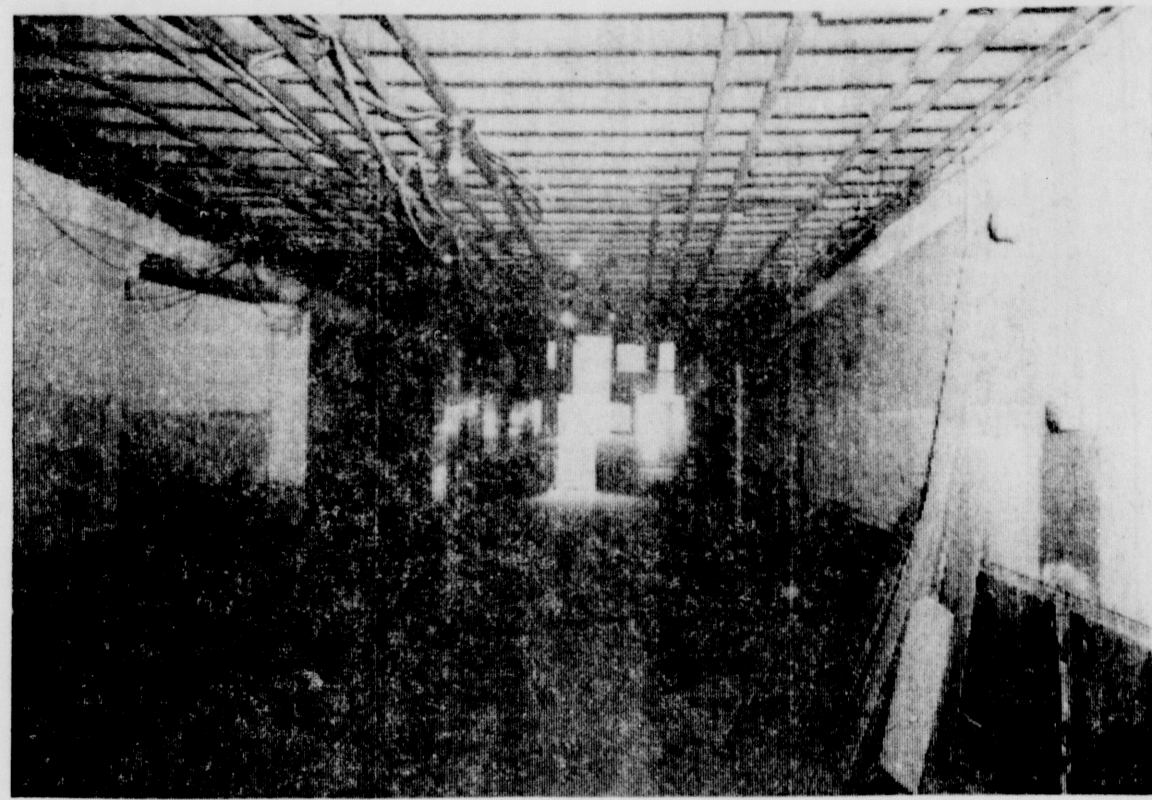

Recent guests at the home of Mrs. Anna Pellinen were Mrs. Sanna Laukka of Red Lodge, Mont., Mrs. William Mikowski of Marquette and Mrs. Sam Manty of Negaunee. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Harju and family of Detroit also visited with Wester Rajala.

Mrs. Clara Lindstrom and Ronnie visited Mr. and Mrs. William Noel at Big Bay.

New Look For Bay College

When Bay de Noc Community College's 100 plus students (that enrollment figure was reached this week) report for classes in September they will find a fresh new look. This hallway in the east wing centers the classroom section of Delta County's first school of higher education. (Daily Press Photos)

Richard Rinehart, Bay de Noc Community College president has an engineering background and he is serving as project engineer for the remodeling. Ben Desilets and Robert Leisner, carpenters, are pictured at work in one area of the former high school building where classes will start next fall.

Ray Gardner lays masonry blocks in building a wall that will modernize another room in the Bay College east wing. New floors and ceilings, plus modern lighting will make the college as fresh in appearance as the outlook of the people of the county in establishing the new educational facility.

Michigan Crime Rate Just Under National Figure

By STEVE RUBINSTEIN

Associated Press Staff Writer

Michigan's crime rate jumped 5.2 per cent last year over 1961, the FBI said today, trailing the national crime rate increase by less than one per cent.

National figures for 1962 showed a crime increase of 6 per cent. With a population near 8 million Michigan registered 1,293.6 crimes per 100,000 residents. In 1961, it was 1,228.7. There were 103.68 crimes reported in Michigan last year, an increase of 5,637 over 1961.

Most of the state's 260 murders and non-negligent manslaughters occurred in Detroit, which reported 131 such crimes last year. Detroit's crime rate for 1962 was 1718.9 per 100,000.

Bay City Lowest Bay City had the lowest percentage of crime of all the major cities in Michigan. It reported 838 criminal offenses, and had a crime rate of 77.6 per 100,000. Acting Police Chief Robert Nash attributes the low rate to the stable nature of Bay City.

All of Michigan's out-state cities had lower crime rates than Detroit, but Flint was the only other city that topped the state average.

Flint was about 2 per cent above the average. Detroit was about 4 per cent above. Flint reported 5,799 crimes, and a crime rate of 1,496.7 per 100,000.

Ann Arbor had the next highest rate of 1,074.6 per 100,000. A total of 1,899 crimes were committed there last year. However, in its tabulation, the FBI included all of Washtenaw County.

County Increase Ann Arbor Police Chief R. J. Gainsley said crime has not increased in the city itself, but has on a county-wide scale.

Muskegon, including the city of Muskegon Heights, had a rate of 1,057.9 per 100,000 persons. Law enforcement officers reported 1,615 crimes last year.

Lansing reported 3,153 crimes and had a crime rate of 1,033.2 per 100,000 persons. Kalamazoo reported 1,581 criminal offenses. Its crime rate was 965.2 per 100,000.

Grand Rapids followed with a rate of 903.1, reporting 3,333 crimes last year.

Saginaw reported 1,678 crimes and had a rate of 862.6 per 100,000.

Jackson had a rate of 860 per 100,000 and reported 1,155 crimes.

Ann Landers

Stare Spoils Kiss

Dear Ann Landers: This may sound pretty silly but I'm dead serious and I need an outside opinion. My boy friend kisses me with his eyes open. Several times I have peeked and there he is—staring. It just spoils everything for me. I can't understand why he does this. What can he be looking at? At such close range I should think his eyes would cross.

Maybe I'm silly but I've always believed that a kiss should be soulful and dreamy. It seems that he wouldn't be looking around unless he were bored.

I have never mentioned this to him because I don't know what to say. Can you help?—PUCKERED BUT UNHAPPY

Dear unhappy: Your boy friend probably has no idea that this bothers you, and after 50 years he still won't know—unless you clue him.

Tell him exactly how you feel.

Fined For Part In Burglary

A Wells man, Robert D. Willis, 28, was fined $75 plus costs of $4.30 on a charge of transporting stolen goods, when he was arraigned before Justice Ross P. Davis in Gladstone this morning.

Willis, who was arrested by State Police, pled guilty to transporting the merchandise stolen from the Majestic Store at Ensign Wednesday evening. Garry Pardee, 17, of Ensign, and a juvenile from Hermansville were arrested by State Police for the burglary.

The Hermansville boy was turned over to the Probate Court in Menominee County. He was held in the Delta County jail pending transfer.

Willis admitted to officers that at the request of the pair he transported the stolen properties from the Ensign store to Gladstone.

The pair also admitted to officers that on July 5 they had attempted to break into the Mobile Service Station in Gladstone, but failed. Gladstone City Police were investigating the incident.

Agency Expands; Office Building Now 94% Filled

The State Health Department will occupy more space in the State Office Building at Escanaba, bringing that building into 94 per cent occupancy, highest figure in its history.

Frank Bourke, city controller, told the City Council (which is trustee of the office building) that the Health Department is in need of one additional bay. The building was financed with funds bequeathed to the city by Catherine Bonifas.

The trustees also accepted an option to purchase two lots at S. 3rd St. and 1st Ave. S. from Harold Gasman of Escanaba for use in the event the state needs area for construction of a laboratory building.

The cost of the two lots will be a total of $6,300. Their appraised value is $6,500.

Perkins

Word has been received here of the birth of a daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Mr. and Mrs. Attila Tamasi of Minneapolis. The Tamasis also have a son. Mrs. Tamasi is the former Rosalie Wickstrom. The Wickstroms are former residents of Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and Ronnie and Tom Teeple visited in Calumet with Tom Teeple's sister and family.

Marilyn Gibbs has returned to Marquette after spending several days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gibbs. Marilyn is employed in Marquette for the summer months.

At home to visit with their mother, Mrs. Mathilda Lancour, who is a patient at St. Francis Hospital are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lancour and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Chaikin of Elkhor, Wis., and Sister Arrabelle of St. James Hospital in Pontiac, Ill.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Bannister Wednesday was William Bannister of Detroit.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gibbs recently were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Keefe and daughter Susan of Kaukauna, Wis.

Mrs. John Decramer has returned from a trip to Detroit. Accompanying her home to spend several days here was her sister, Mrs. Nick Issacson, and son, Gary.

Mayor Rejects Dismissal Plea

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh Thursday rejected the request of a Negro group that he fire a Detroit policeman for the fatal shooting of a Negro woman during an attempted arrest.

A delegation from the Group on Advanced Leadership met with Cavanagh to discuss the shooting of Cynthia Scott by Patrolman Theodore Suicher last July 5.

Richard B. Henry, GOAL president, said his group would continue picketing Police Headquarters. Cavanagh expressed concern that a repetition of a demonstration like last Saturday's, when police were pelted by rocks and bottles, might lead to trouble.

Cavanagh said the group wanted Spicher suspended and brought before a trial board.

Spicher was exonerated after an investigation by Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen. The patrolman said he shot the woman when she slashed him with a knife while he was attempting to arrest her for soliciting.

Hay Fever Aid

Hay fever sufferers may obtain a fact-filled pamphlet about the illness by writing a request to the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, 403 Seymour Ave., Lansing 14, Mich. The pamphlet, one of a series about respiratory diseases, is offered without charge as a Christmas Seal service.

As with most problems, the simple, direct approach is the most effective.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 15-year-old girl who would like your frank opinion on whether or not I am normal.

For years on the last day of camp when all my bunkmates were weeping hysterically at saying farewell, I was never able to join them in this display of emotion. I just can't throw my arms around people and sob. I have strong feelings for people but I have never been able to show them.

Even in a sad movie when everyone else is crying buckets I can't squeeze out a tear. I feel sad, but I don't cry.

Last night I went to a very depressing play with two girl friends. They were bawling their eyes out, and me — nothing, as usual. One of the girls said later, "I think there must be something wrong with you. Anyone who can sit dry-eyed through a performance like that has got to be abnormal."

Is she right?—NO WEEPING WILLOW

Dear Willow: Some people can turn the tears on and off like a faucet. It doesn't mean they feel any worse or that they are more deeply grieved than the person who shows nothing.

Weeping can be a healthy emotional catharsis, but if you can't wring out a tear it's really nothing to cry about.

Dear Ann: My husband's father is very sick. He has an incurable illness and the doctors say he can't live more than a few more months.

Our six-year-old son knows that grandpa is not going to get well. We've told Freddie that grandpa will soon be going to his heavenly home where he will have rest and peace and be free of pain.

Now Freddie talks about nothing but the funeral. He has asked dozens of questions. He just assumes he will be present. The question is, should he be? My husband says, "Yes." I'm not so sure.

I remember the first funeral I attended when I was seven. I had terrible nightmares for years. It left me with fears from which I've never completely recovered.

I'm afraid of subjecting our son to the same hazard. What do you say?—W.D.T.

Dear W.D.T.: A six-year-old is too young to attend a funeral, particularly if the casket is open for viewing. Although you didn't spell it out, I feel reasonably certain that this is what caused your nightmares.

Confidential to FED UP WITH FOUL MOUTH: Profanity is a crutch for conversational cripples. Tell him to clean up his language or find another girl.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Test Of Intentions

The three great social changes in America of this time are the migration from the farms, the increasing urbanization which has changed us from a predominantly rural people to one that lives mostly in big cities, and currently and most emotionally tense and moralistic of the three, the revolt of American Negroes against second class citizenship. America has always had a double standard on the Negro question. Since Revolutionary days the stirring words of Patrick Henry have been a rallying cry for Americans: "Give me Liberty, or give me death." But Henry was from slaveholding Virginia where the Negroes had no liberty.

In the years since then there has been some progress in giving our Negro citizens, freed by Abraham Lincoln's proclamation in the Civil War from slavery, full citizenship. But most of them are a long way from it still and there's lots of discrimination against even those who have been politically emancipated, and even against those who have attained fame, great stature and wealth.

The problem of bringing the Negro and white people of America into a balance of respect and opportunity is a very difficult one. Great progress has been made recently because of the militancy of our Negroes in their demands for equal opportunities and an end to discrimination against them. But this militancy has created a great national danger. It has tended unfairly to discredit and to push from positions of influence the leaders of the long fight for moderation in the Negro cause and to give the reins to a new generation of Negro leaders who are going to play rough.

Here in the North where there are so few Negroes and no large problems in integrating public facilities, we can discuss the Negro question without the pressures that bear on any such deliberations in the South. But even here it is obvious that true integration is a very difficult thing to achieve in a short period and that we should accord the effort an immense good will.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, testifying on proposed legislation to extend civil rights, said courageously that if he were treated as Negroes are he'd demonstrate, too. Rusk is from Georgia. So is Senator Richard Russell, a man of great prestige and authority in the U. S. Senate.

It's expected that a Governor Barnett of Mississippi or a Governor Wallace of Alabama might be a white supremacist, but when Dick Russell of Georgia refuses to give his great influence to a responsible solution to the Negro problem, America is clearly in deep trouble.

Here in the North we hear "If the Negroes would only be reasonable they'd be treated fairly." And there is a real danger that extremists in the Negro leadership may retard their cause by disorders or pressures that will offend lawmakers.

There has been some effort to make political capital of this national crisis by suggesting that President Kennedy and his brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, have sparked the Negro revolt. This is as phony as the suggestion that it is Communist inspired, although obviously the Communists will make what capital they can of it.

Southern political leaders are acting as though the Negro problem would be solved if President Kennedy would warn them on the need for law and order. This is to assume that the Negroes have no grievances. President Kennedy didn't invent their problems and he hasn't incited the Negroes; knowing full well that this would be sowing a political whirlwind. His hand was forced by the Negro demonstrations and he's now proposing legislation to extend civil rights.

A test of intention for all Americans who deplore the Negro disturbances is for them to question whether they have deplored discrimination against Negroes.

Writers Picnic

The yen to write is one of the most tantalizing of human itches. Unfortunately, it afflicts some persons with more interest than talent and even in this era of prodigious publication it is often difficult to get a work into print.

In the Upper Peninsula, with its great spaces and small communities, a gathering of writers is as difficult to arrange as a gathering of water diviners, because writers tend to be lone eagles, but Mrs. Irja Harju of L'Anse and some courageous colleagues are attempting it anyway. They report that they're assured of a gathering of 20 writers or more from the Peninsula and they invite all the other scribes north of Mackinac to come too.

The meeting will be at Pequaming north of L'Anse at 10 a. m. Sunday, July 28 and Northern Michigan University will supply the speakers and Mrs. Harju and her committee will supply the Finnish coffee bread, although they're asking the writers to bring their own picnic baskets. Writing is a solo performance but even writers must like to fraternize, if only to lambast the publishers.

They Need A Jolt

An observer of today's city traffic took a couple of quick counts the other day. They are an interesting commentary on the safety problem.

On a busy expressway leading into the central city, he checked a dozen cars in just a few minutes. In 10 of the 12, the driver had one hand or less on the steering wheel. All were driving 45 to 50 miles or more an hour.

On the city's streets, a six or seven-minute check yielded 21 motorists out of some 30 who were not in proper control of their cars.

Almost any test any day anywhere would produce figures not much different.

Haven't we had enough foolish general admonitions like "Drive Safely!"?

The time has long since passed when we should have begun talking of safe driving in hard specifics.

Let the National Safety Council din into the motorist's ears that safe driving means first and foremost controlling the car.

Let the traffic authorities compile statistics which show plainly what proportion of accidents—fatal and otherwise—are due basically to improper control. The figures surely are staggering.

And let it be made a reckless driving offense everywhere in the nation for any motorist to drive without both hands on the wheel in positions assuring full control of his vehicle.

The Veterans Remember

An impressive part of the ceremonies dedicating the new Escanaba Area High School was the presentation of the colors by Hiawatha Post, No. 2998 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The guard presented the colors and its leader presented to Supt. Walter Bright an American flag to be loaned on the new school's staff. The VFW, and its companion servicemen's associations like the Legion, the Amvets, Disabled American Veterans and the others perform a valuable public service in the keeping of national patriotic traditions.

New Door Mat?

Edson In Washington Memory Lane

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Is it true, as some are saying, that fewer than half of the American people are in favor of the policies President Kennedy is advocating?

Not if the current public opinion polls accurately reflect public opinion.

Recent copyrighted polls taken by George Gallup's American Institute of Public Opinion give Kennedy a 61 per cent popularity rating.

While this is his low score to date—a 15 per cent drop in the first six months of 1963 and a 22 per cent plunge from his all-time high in 1961—it still doesn't indicate that more than half the people oppose his policies.

POPULARITY POLLS undoubtedly reflect news trends. If the news is good, the rating goes up. If the news is bad, the rating comes down.

This is true, it seems, whether the president is Democrat or a Republican.

For example, the low point for President Eisenhower—a popularity rating of 49 per cent—came in January 1958 at the depth of the depression. But when his Summit conference in September 1955 offered hope of a Berlin solution, his rating jumped up to 79 per cent—a peak equaled only after his re-election in 1956.

Similarly, a large factor in Kennedy's low score of 61 per cent in the most recent Gallup poll seems to be southern opposition to his civil rights program.

The South gave him an approval of only 33 per cent, compared to 71 per cent approval outside the South.

CURIOSLY, WHEN a president is in deep international trouble, his popularity support is apt to go up. Eisenhower's rating soared from 62 to 71 per cent in June 1960 after the U-2 was shot down over Russia and the second Summit conference blew up in Paris.

Similarly, Kennedy's all-time high of 83 per cent came after the Cuban invasion fiasco in April 1961.

The Kennedy rating stayed above the 70 per cent mark through his first two years in office—a record.

At the end of 1961, it was 78 per cent. At the end of 1962, after the forced withdrawal of Russian missiles from Cuba and the 1962 elections in which Democrats made big congressional gains, it was 76 per cent.

Lack of action on Kennedy's program in Congress may be partly responsible for his sharp drop in popularity rating in the first half of 1963.

THE SURPRISING THING in Kennedy's poll rating is that he still shows as favorite over the leading Republican possibilities to run against him in 1964.

In the Gallup poll made at the end of June, Kennedy and Johnson were favored for re-election over a hypothetical ticket of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater by a vote of 56 to 38 per cent.

This may be a little tricky, for the pollsters' question was asked in such a way that Rockefeller was put at the head of the ticket. Only in the South did the Republican ticket fare better—47 per cent to 45 per cent for the Democrats.

Such figures seem to indicate Kennedy's slipping personal popularity has not vitally affected his standing against his most likely 1964 opponent.

The Doctor Says:

Ringworm Requires Care

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—Is ringworm primarily a fungus condition or a blood condition? How can I get rid of it? Is it the same as athlete's foot?

A—Ringworm is a fungus disease that may attack any part of the skin but it has a marked preference for parts that are moist. For this reason it is common in the groin and in the feet where it is called athlete's foot. Many persons who are not in the least athletic also get it. A new fungicide, chloroxylonol, has proved very effective in some persons who have used it.

Recent studies indicate that in some persons rod-shaped bacteria rather than a fungus cause athlete's foot. This would account for the failure of some victims to get relief from any of the fungicides and for their cure by other drugs.

It all boils down to what I have said many times in the past: First, find the exact cause. When this is done the treatment prescribed by your doctor is often surprisingly easy. But always, you must keep your feet as dry as possible as much of the time as possible.

Q—For several weeks I have had a salty taste in my mouth. I've checked with my dentist and have used different kinds of mouthwash but nothing seems to help. What could cause this?

A—This rather baffling symptom is observed in some persons who smoke excessively. If you smoke try cutting it out for four or five weeks and see whether the salty taste disappears. Cutting out smoking will give you other dividends as well. On the other hand, the taste may be due to an acid saliva in contact with an amalgam filling, but such a cause would have been discovered by your dentist. In a few persons sleeping with the mouth open is associated with a salty taste.

If you are taking medicines that contain ammonium or calcium chloride, sodium or potassium iodide, or sodium bicarbonate, this could be the cause. If you are not taking any of these try cutting down or eliminating table salt from your diet for a week and see if that will not help you.

Q—What would cause me to feel pain in a leg that was taken off 10 years ago?

A—Nearly every person who has an amputation has some painful sensation in the severed ending of the nerve that supplied the lost leg. This is called phantom leg pain. In most persons this clears up in a few months. Operations to further remove sensory pathways to or in the brain have been attempted when the pain is persistent and severe, but the results are often disappointing.

Q—My sister has a craving to eat raw rolled oats. She is gaining weight. Is it harmful to eat rolled oats raw?

—Rolled oats may be eaten raw without harm, but an excessive gain in weight is harmful and the rolled oats may be a contributing factor.

Medical Care Meeting Held

Further plans for a medical care facility to be constructed with local revenue and Hill-Burton funds were discussed at a community meeting Tuesday night.

Attending were the trustees of Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, the welfare board, the medical care committee, county board representatives, a representative of the hospital medical staff and Dr. R. A. Teanran, director of the Alger Schoolcraft Health Department.

Cloverland Lodge, it was noted, will probably not be permitted to continue operating beyond October, unless some definite replacement plans are offered, as the building is old and rated inadequate.

Those attending also included John Gombato and Michael Mikecinac of the state welfare department, Joseph Homminga, in charge of hospital construction for the Michigan Health Department, and a representative of the Arntzen architectural firm.

Next discussions will be at the county board meeting, tentatively scheduled Aug. 2.

MANISTIQUE

Airport Runway Completed; See Business Increase

Pictures Page 10

Officials of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics and the Federal Aviation Agency Thursday inspected the new Schoolcraft County airport paved runway and reported they were pleased with the $110,000 improvement.

The project marks a second step in the area's program to upgrade transportation. Earlier the community successfully sought deepening of the Manistique harbor by the Army Corps of Engineers.

The Airport improvement was financed with a local one mill levy for one year, which produced $25,000 and a $14,000 stone contribution by Inland Lime and Stone Co., to match federal and state funds. The millage proposal was first rejected by voters, then won approval after discontinuance of Soo Line passenger train service.

Gilliland and Yackey Construction Co., of Alpena held contract for the project to provide a 3,000-foot runway, a 225 by 100 foot apron and a 600 by 40 foot taxiway. Work was completed this week, except for turfing, to be done this fall and some leveling on the cross-runway. Engineering was by Northern Michigan Engineers of Escanaba.

Also accomplished in the project for the east-west runway was clearing of additional land for the cross runway. Additional land was acquired in the project, some of which can be used to qualify for additional federal aid in later projects, Andrews said.

In 1962 the Schoolcraft County Airport had 3,200 operations, itinerant, which brought in 6,700 persons, according to the Michigan aviation fact-finder survey. This generated $35,500 business for the community. The figures were obtained last July and August in one-week surveys at airports and were projected.

"With addition of a paved runway, the year 1963 should see an increase of at least 50 per cent in airport activity," said L. C. Andrews, assistant engineering chief

When federal and state officials were inspecting the new runway at the Schoolcraft Airport Thursday, the party had to scurry off the pavement, almost as soon as the tour started, as a plane was coming in.

The skyway ambulance plane was piloted by Joseph Shipla of Streeter, Ill., who had come for Robert C. Troup, killed in a highway accident Wednesday morning. The accident occurred when a car pulled out to pass and struck him as he returned from a honeymoon trip.

The day was a busy one at the airport, with five craft landing in addition to the twin engine Cessna 310 of the state.

of the state department of aeronautics. By next year, he sees a doubling of airport operations.

Next steps in airport improvements will probably be addition of a terminal building, in which state matching funds can be made available, and lighting. Experience has shown communities usually ask for lighting a year or two after getting their paved runways, officials said.

Is Big Year
In addition to the $110,000 project cost, on which the county paid a fourth, the new improvements include $12,000 in a state-local matching project on landing clearing.

Lloyd Smith, who is with the Federal Aviation agency at Lansing noted an airport is "like a road. Once it's there, people start to use it. As Manistique is a good-sized community midway between Soo and Escanaba and in a resort area, he predicted substantial increase in airport operations here.

Michigan has 40 airport contracts out this year and is in one of its biggest airport years, both finance-wise and project-wise, Smith said. The U. P. projects include Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie, which have air carrier service, as well as Manistique.

General aviation constitutes 75 per cent of air carrier. 25 per cent of the airport business. The smaller airports, such as Manistique are needed to feed into the larger airports, he noted.

Here for the inspection were Andrews, Smith, Stanley McWhinney and Harold Downing.

A strong west wind was blowing Thursday during the inspection tour. Studies showed this was the prevailing wind and was a factor in the decision to pave the east-west runway.

Women's Activities

With Our Women

Women linotype operators are in the minority but the Escanaba Daily Press composing room is blessed with one of the best.

She is Mrs. Leona C. DeKeyser, who lives at 425 Dakota Ave., Gladstone, and who is nearing the 50th anniversary in her years in printing.

In the language of the trade, when Leona's name appears at the top of a proof, the proof reader can relax to a great extent because it is seldom that this remarkable operator sets anything but perfect copy.

Mrs. DeKeyser was born in Gladstone Dec. 29, 1898. Her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Stock, came from Knocke, Belgium, and were among the first settlers of the Gladstone community.

She attended All Saints Parochial School and Gladstone public schools. Her marriage to William DeKeyser of Green Bay took place in Sault Ste. Marie Oct. 10, 1916. She was first employed at Dhondt's Bakery in Gladstone.

Leona DeKeyser

She became associated with the Delta Reporter in Gladstone, went from there to the Soo News, Sault Ste. Marie, and for the past 19 years has been with the Escanaba Daily Press.

She is a member of All Saints Church and All Saints Guild, Gladstone, and typographical Union 278.

The DeKeyser family has one daughter, Mrs. Robert Murchie, 506 Dakota Ave., Gladstone, and four grandchildren, Jean Lynn, William, Patrick J. and Richard Murchie.

Leona's hobbies are far removed from her career. They are sewing, crocheting and gardening.

Isabella Circle Picnic Monday At Pulaski Park

Daughters of Isabella of Trinity Circle 362 will hold their annual summer picnic Monday, July 22, beginning at 2 p. m. at Pulaski Park, Bark River.

Games will be played during the afternoon and supper will be served beginning at 5:30. Members are asked to provide their own table service. If it rains the affair will be held at Teamster Union Hall.

Mrs. Bert Paquette is chairman and Mrs. Norman Niquette, assistant chairman of the day. Their hostess committee is Messdames Joseph Potvin, Joseph Gaudreault, Ed Meyers, Dan Levesque, William Peltier, Ed Nelson, W. R. Benson, Louis Sabourin, Leo Brunelle, Roy Bergman, Ray Teal, Henry VanEkervort, Joseph Belanger and Joseph Osier.

Personals

Persons from away who attended the funeral of J. Rudolph Larson included J. Robert Larson and family of Rock Island, Ill., Miss Barbara J. Costley, San Bernardino, Calif., and A. R. Bolling, a brother, of LaVerne, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fisher, Munising, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nissila and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fredericksen, Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Okerlund, Menominee.

Homemakers Will Study Problem Of Pesticides

EAST LANSING—A panel of experts will tackle the pesticide situation for the benefit of Michigan women attending Homemakers' Conference College Week for Women at Michigan State University July 23-26.

Three days of classes will be devoted to answering such questions as: Are pesticides poisoning people? How are our foods being protected? Are fish and wildlife being threatened by these chemicals?

"The homemaker should be aware of the pesticide problem, objective in her evaluation of the situation and well informed of new developments," asserts Gordon E. Guyer, chairman of MSU's entomology department who will lead off the class sessions on Wednesday. "After all, it was a woman—Rachel Carson—whose book, 'Silent Spring,' added flame to a fire which had been smoldering for some time."

The report on pesticides will be one of about 30 different classes especially devoted to homemakers' interests. Women can register for these classes in the Terrace Lounge of Shaw Hall, Tuesday morning between 9 and 12.

Besides Guyer, the pesticide panel will consist of three other MSU staff members, a Food and Drug Administration representative and three members of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

College Week also features general sessions on such topics as "Today's Family—What's It Really Like?" and "The Role of Women in Today's Society."

"Day" students pay $4 for the conference or can attend just one day for $2. Women who prefer to take board and lodging in MSU's Shaw Hall pay $25. Advance registration is not necessary.

Escanaba Residents Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wiltzius Sr. of 823 2nd Ave. S., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Saturday, July 13.

The observance opened with a Mass of Thanksgiving at 10 a. m. at St. Joseph's Church, at which the couple renewed marriage vows. Attendants were Mrs. Gertrude Verboncover of Keweenaw, sister of Mr. Wiltzius, and Arvid Olson of Waukegan, brother of Mrs. Wiltzius. Altar boys were four grandsons, John and Robert Gorenchian, Stanley Wiltzius and Joseph Vandeville. Golden mums plants decorated the altar.

Following Mass an 11 a. m. breakfast for immediate family members was served at the Sherman Hotel, where the reception for 175 guests was held from 4 to 8.

The four-tiered wedding cake, trimmed with yellow roses and gold leaves, was served by Mrs. James McCluggage of Gary, Ind., and Mrs. Verne Vandeville of Gladstone. The centerpieces were golden roses and leaves and money tree, trimmed in gold. The couple was presented with gifts including a purse. Mrs. McCluggage and Barbara Carter, a granddaughter, were in charge of gifts.

Attending were the ten children of the family, Mrs. Albert (Mary) Auger, Racine, Mrs. Earl (Evelyn) Dumas, Gary, Mrs. Raymond (Alice) Vander Linden, Gladstone, Mrs. Kenneth (Edna) Carter, Elkville, Ill., Mrs. John (Irene) Gorenchian, Escanaba, Mrs. Verne (Florence) Vandeville, Gladstone, Rte. 1, George of Rockford, William of Wells and Joseph Jr. and Ruth, Escanaba. Large storage buildings distinguish the Alfred Oelke farm three miles west of Norway, which will be one of the three farms visited in the annual Upper Peninsula Farm Management Tour scheduled for July 31 in Dickinson County. The public is invited to assemble at the Iver Aldredson farm at 10 a. m. (MSU Photo)

1963 Management Farm Tour Theme

"Managing Modern Family Farms" is the theme of the 1963 Upper Peninsula Farm Management Tour set for July 31 in Dickinson County. The tour committee — made up of Dickinson County farmers, County Extension Director Frank Molnar, Michigan State University Economists Rick Hartwig of Marquette and Soil Conservation Service personnel — chose three farms to portray their theme.

All three are family farms. But the families manage the farms, instead of letting the land control the destiny of its people — a popular concept of family farming in the horse and buggy days.

The tour will start at the Iver Aldredson farm at 10 a. m. Visitors at this first stop, 10 miles east and 6 mile south of Norway, will see a set of ultra-modern farm buildings and interesting side-lights such as a Christmas tree shearing demonstration. Alfredson has, through persistence and a lot of tractor and manpower, removed stones and trees and converted 54 acres into some of the best dairy pasture in the state. So lush are the grasses and clovers that a mother bear and her cubs have been visiting the pastures daily this summer for a morning snack.

The Dickinson County farmer fertilizes, rotates, clips, strip grazes, constructs waterways, sprays weeds and generally handles his pastures as if they were producing high value cash crops. And it doesn't take long for the grasses and legumes to be converted into cash after they're run through Alfredson's 33 Holsteins. The Alfredsons have five children, four to 19, so there is little need for hiring outside labor.

Next stop on the tour, which is expected to also draw many farmers from neighboring Wisconsin, will be the Joe Paluch farm just south of Norway. Here Mrs. Paluch will host wives in her new ranch-type home and her husband will conduct the tour so the men can view his uniquely diversified operation that paid for the new house.

Paluch produces snap beans and cabbage and markets through the Norway Canning Cooperative. His rotation — hay, three years, beans or cabbage then grain — produces his cash crops plus feed for his 26-cow dairy herd.

Visitors will see a two-row snap bean harvester, will view a variety trial of the MSU developed green bean "Spartan Arrow" and will hear about tillage and spraying programs unique to the commercial production of vegetables. This too is a family operation, with four children age seven through 16 pitching in to help.

Lunch will be served at 12 in Marion Park, near the Paluch farm. MSU Economist Art Mauch will speak on the "Hits and Myths About Agriculture."

Some of the U. P. farm tourists will be most interested in the "longest rows" which they will see after lunch at the Alfred Oelke farm, three miles west of Norway on U. S. 2. Some are going to be more interested in the way Oelke produces the famed Russet Burbank potatoes on 90 acres of the sandy soil by fertilizing heavily and by irrigating. And others will take special note of the way Oelke processes and packages the Russet Burbanks — a system he and other farmers worked out to win the top state farm product development award during 1962.

Farm Hazards Get Spotlight

The week of July 21 is National Farm Safety Week, a time when we are grimly reminded that farming is the third most hazardous occupation. Only mining and construction work have higher death rates.

The accident death rate on farms is higher than the national average. In 1961, when the national rate dropped to an all time low of 50 deaths per 100,000 population, the farm average rose to 58. That year accidents took the lives of 8,700 farm residents.

What are some of the basic reasons for this? Experts point out that industry has elaborate safety procedures and trained personnel to administer its programs. A farmer for the most part operates on his own. In industry, employees' mistakes are noticed and corrected. The farmer does not have the benefit of this expert safety supervision.

This means that farmers and their families must constantly remind themselves of hazards that can cause accidents. This includes fires too, which is part of the total safety program on the farm. The nation's loss from rural fires is nearing $175 million.

Tractors' Toll Of Youth High

Letting children "ride the tractor with daddy" is extremely dangerous. Parents of 37 children can testify from experience.

That's the number of children who have been killed in Michigan during the past six years while riding on the farm tractor. "Experience has shown that giving a child a ride on the tractor and doing farm work at the same time is a dangerous combination," in addition, some 100 or more disabling accidents also happen each year.

What do you do when your children beg for a ride on the tractor? All you can do is explain the danger and be firm in your decision. Don't make promises for the future.

Another type of accident situation—the summer months—is a slow-moving tractor on the highway.

"Farmers should use a red flag during daylight hours and a flashing red light at night to help identify the tractor as a slow moving vehicle."

Senators Promote Great Lakes Use

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Great Lakes Conference of senators to promote use of the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence Seaway was formed Wednesday by senators from six states.

"We all have been concerned for some time that the full potential of the Great Lakes has not been realized," said Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who called the organizational meeting.

"This has become particularly apparent with the opening of the lakes to world commerce through the St. Lawrence Seaway."

The 12 senators said they hoped to engage a full-time staff member.

Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., was named chairman of the conference.

Drought, Herd Cuts Cut Milk

National milk production declined in April and May. During the first five months of 1963 production was down 560 million pounds compared to same period of 1962. This is a result of reduced cow numbers plus dry weather resulting in poor pastures. Stable milk prices coupled with rising feed grain and hay prices are stemming the tide in milk production for time being.

Fed cattle prices jumped a dollar or two in early July. Choice steers at Detroit are bringing $24-$25. Consumer demand and reduced supplies are given as reasons. However, the price is not out of line and will probably continue into the fall.

Egg prices are expected to increase seasonally into the fall. The prices for the remainder of 1963 are expected to follow somewhat the prices of 1962.

It's too early to predict potato prices for the fall crop. The crop is not far enough along to start predicting yields. Fall frosts and heavy rains can change the picture quickly. There is plenty of acreage and if yields end up average or above, we may be in trouble with over production.

Fishing Industry Research Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Great Lakes fishing industry — hard hit in recent years by the killing sea lamprey — needs research and development to recover, Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., said Tuesday. Hart spoke in support of a bill to authorize federal grants to states of up to 75 per cent of costs for research and development of commercial fishery resources.

Federal, State Aid Lists Vary

DETROIT (AP)—Nearly six per cent of Michigan's 32,000 Aid to Dependent Children cases are ineligible for the aid under state standards, according to a federal report released today.

State Welfare Director R. Bernard Houston released the report by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and said it did not surprise him.

"We have always estimated that five per cent of our cases were ineligible, because we consistently prosecute that number for fraud and drop them from the rolls," he said.

The federal audit found 5.8 per cent ineligible under state standards but only 1.5 ineligible under federal standards.

Houston said state rules differ from federal rules in that a woman receiving ADC becomes ineligible if she bears an illegitimate child and that all recipients must report changes in their amounts of need or income within 14 days to remain eligible.

Predicts Jesus Will Find Place In Jewish Annals

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

History's most influential Jew, Jesus, traditionally has been ignored in the annals of Judaism, but a noted Jewish scholar predicts future works will include reference to the ancient Galilean.

Not as divinity become man, as Christians regard Him, but as a wise and inspiring teacher.

Dr. Harry A. Wolfson, professor of Hebrew literature and philosophy emeritus at Harvard University, says fuller restoration of Jewish literary treasures doubtless "will include among them the sermons and parables of Jesus."

He adds that "it is not as a returning hero" that Jesus will be restored, and not as a beatified saint nor as an "individual to be worshiped and exalted above others," but as one of the "wise, of blessed memory, who express the national genius of the people."

Dr. Wolfson, makes his forecast in a final, memorial issue of "The Menorah Journal," published in honor of its late editor, Henry Hurwitz.

"The Jewish reclamation of Jesus will not be brought about by efforts of evangelical piety on the part of some Jews, or by a sentimental yearning for what we haven't got," he says.

"It will come about as a result of a wider and more comprehensive conception of the scope of Jewish learning and Jewish literature and of a general restoration of our lost literary treasures."

Noting that Jesus has been "better known among non-Jews than among Jews" because of historical circumstances, Dr. Wolfson says Judaism nonetheless has absorbed much Christian influence.

"A century of infiltration of Christian ideas into our life through all the agencies of education has robbed many of us of our essential Jewish character," he says.

"In everything that guides our life and determines our views thereof, we have become Christianized, for we have somehow accepted Christ if not in the theological sense of a Savior at least in the historical sense of a civilizer."

As for the traditional Jewish position on Jesus, Dr. Wolfson says "Jesus is not a rejected prophet; at best He is a rejected sage."

"The Jews did not put a limit to the books of the Bible in order to keep Jesus out; Jesus simply happened to come at a time when that body of literature, in the opinion of the authorities of the time, was practically closed."

Distorted Image

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas says Africans have a distorted image of racial troubles in the United States. Returning Wednesday from a three-week tour of Africa, Douglas said in New York City the several hundred American teachers and student volunteers on that continent "are the best emissaries America ever had."

Kroger Wants Pharmacy Right

LANSING (AP) — A decision on whether the SuperRx discount drug chain owned by Kroger Co. should be given a state pharmacy license will come from the Michigan Supreme Court late this year.

Oral arguments on the controversial case were presented to the court Wednesday, and an opinion is expected during the Fall term of the court.

Attorneys for the grocery firm asked the court Wednesday to declare unconstitutional a 36-year-old state law which stipulates that at least 25 per cent of the stockholders of a drug firm be registered pharmacists.

Such a finding could clear the way for SuperRx to qualify for a state license, denied by the Board of Pharmacy last September.

The high court members made it clear, however, they want a clearer explanation of the intricate case than provided by the oral arguments and a record that already runs to three volumes.

Solicitor General Robert Derenkowski, defending the state against the drug firm's demand, said he thought the case had been handled in a "sloppy" manner from the beginning. The justices agreed with him. They asked, in the end, for a complete and concise chronological account of events in the case from beginning to the present. Among the points causing confusion were the facts that the pharmacy board presented additional reasons for denying the license application after the action was taken, and that Kroger then went directly to court without asking for a hearing.

The basis for his board ruling was its support of a claim by some 600 independent druggists, protesting the Kroger application, that ing.

Owl Drug Co., forerunner of SuperRx, had sold drugs without prescription.

Frank Rodman, Upper Peninsula member of the State Athletic Board of Control, is heading for Jackson today to meet with Commissioner David Gudelsky and attend Saturday night's fight between Henry Hank and Ed Zarembo for the Michigan light heavyweight championship. . . . Rodman, who works closely with Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves officials, will have an opportunity to see Manistiquie Pete Bosanic in action in a six-round preliminary against undefeated Joe Watts of Lansing.

Ron Rubick, Manistiquie's contribution to the Michigan State football team for the past two seasons, is spending his summer vacation working at Lansing's Ree Motor Truck Division plant. . . . Off to a sensational start as a junior last fall, Rubick was knocked out of action late in the season with a knee injury. . . . His rushing average of 6.3 yards in 68 trips was the best of all Spartan backs for the season.

After Todd Butler, ace flinger for Mead No. 1, pitched Skinny's to a 6-1 decision over the Harlem Kings in an exhibition this week, the traveling softballers rated him one of the best pitchers they've faced in their cross-country jaunt. . . . Butler fired the third strike past 15 batters and allowed only two hits.

Pembine's seven game victory string was snapped in the Connie Mack league this week. . . . Kingsford turned the trick by a 7-5 margin as Ron Tortelli scattered six hits and fanned six batters. . . . Kingsford had won only once previously this season.

An all time women's record was set at the Pine Grove Country Club in Iron Mountain recently when Kay Roberts turned in a sizzling 40 score, matching women's par for the course. . . . She was Upper Peninsula champion in 1947 and won the Pine Grove title in 1961.

Bill Smith Fires No-Hit Victory For Flat Rock

Games Tonight

6:45—Bero vs. Mead No. 2

8:15 — Hall Insurance vs. Northern Rebuilders

Billy Smith handcuffed Skinny's Bar without a hit in a 7-2 Flat Rock victory in City Softball tournament play at Memorial Field Thursday night.

The Flat Rock fastballer fired his gem in American League turnout action while Dale Bittner was fashioning a nifty one-hitter in the National League division.

Bittner hurled Bero Motors to a 9-2 triumph over Mead No. 3.

His bid for a no-hitter was ruined by Alm's double in the second inning.

Flat Rock jumped on Jim Way for three runs in the first inning on a walk and singles by Richer, Smith, Gareau and Beauchamp.

Two walks and a passed ball gave Skinny's a run in the second.

Flat Rock pulled away with two runs in the fourth and two more in the fifth while Skinny's tallied again on four walks in the bottom of the sixth. Flat Rock collected 11 hits in all.

Bero Motors reached VanDreen and Charley McCarthy for seven hits with Jim Boyle facing three for three.

The defeat eliminated Mead No. 3 from the double elimination tournament. Bero's returns to action at 6:45 this evening against Mead No. 2, with the loser bowing out of action.

Hall Insurance and Northern Rebuilders tangle in the nightcap at 8:15.

Two Golfers Tie In Women's Open

CINCINNATI (AP)—A girl with an ailing back and one who weighs in at only 95 pounds led the field today into the second round of the 1963 Women's National Open Golf Tournament.

They are Mary Mills, a 23-year-old blonde from Gulf Hills, Miss., and Clifford Ann Greed, a tiny 24-year-old brunette from Alexandria, La. Each had a 2-under-par 71 Thursday over the Kenwood Country Club's 6,444 yards of hilly terrain.

Far back in the field and threatened with elimination after today's round was defending champion Mrs. Muriel Lindstrom of Sutton, Mass. Mrs. Lindstrom, who hasn't been playing regularly, had a 10-over-par 83.

It appeared it would take a two-day total of around 161 to survive the halfway mark cut in the field. Only the 40 low scorers and ties will be eligible for Saturday's final 36 holes.

Escanaba Babe Ruth Stars Post Victory

Jim Boyle, ace righthander of the Babe Ruth All Stars, pitched Escanaba to a 2-1 victory over Menominee in the area tournament here Thursday.

The victory advances Escanaba to the Upper Peninsula tournament at Iron Mountain this weekend.

The Escanaba All Stars will take on Calumet in a semifinal game at 1 p. m. at Ranger Field.

Iron Mountain and Marquette meet in the other semifinal tilt and the championship game will be played Sunday at 2 p. m.

The Escanaba team will leave Club 314 by car Saturday at 9:30 a. m.

Boyle gave the Menominee batters only five scattered hits and two bases on balls. He chalked up seven strikeouts victims.

His mates backed him with flawless ball in the field while Bob Irish and Eugene Fregetto set the plate pace with a pair of singles apiece. Ed Gauthier got Escanaba's other hit.

Bob Poquette handled Menominee pitching duties. He gave up five hits, walked two batters and fanned five.

The Escanaba Stars opened scoring with a run in the third inning and tallied their second in the fourth. Menominee crossed the plate in the fifth.

Hits Hole-In-One

Upstart Leading In PGA Tourney

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—No less an authority than Arnold Palmer thinks the early worm will get the birdie at the Dallas Athletic Club course today, which could mean lumps ahead for upstart Dick Hart and smooth sailing for Julius Boros in the second round of the Professional Golfers Association championship.

"Julius is in a perfect position with that 69," Palmer said after his opening round 74—marked by four three-putt greens—dropped the 4-1 favorite eight strokes behind the 27-year-old Hart's brilliant 66 Thursday.

"He was about the only late starter who survived those greens after they got all chopped up by the traffic," Palmer said. "He has a nice, early starting time for the second round and the greens ought to give him a much smoother ride."

Only Tony Lema, among those figured to stay in contention, also played well as a late starter in the huge, 167-player field that opened the 72-hole medal play scramble at the heat-seared Dallas Athletic Club course.

Tony shot a one-under-par 70 on the 7,046-yard, par 36-35-71 layout despite a double bogey five at the 16th.

It was on the 16th, a 216-yard, par 3 test with a small pond snuggling up close to the green, that Hart made the most spectacular shot of a first round in which eagles were almost routine and birdies came by the carload on several holes.

Hart, an assistant pro at the Hinsdale, Ill., golf club, was three-under-par as he stood at the 16th. He pulled out a four-iron and on swing of the club later he was struck a few feet short of the hole, and trickled straight into the cup for only the second hole-in-one in modern PGA history.

His fantastic 66, only one stroke off the course record, gave him a three-stroke lead over Boros, the 1963 National Open champion, Masters champion Jack Nicklaus, British Open champion Bob Charles, Mason Rudolph, and Shelley Mayfield, now a club pro at Dallas' Brook Hollow Country Club. Each of the five fired a 69 but all except Boros and Mayfield started play early in the dawn-to-dark firing.

The grandstand and clubhouse at New York's Aqueduct racetrack cover seven acres.

Podres Key Man On Dodgers Staff

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

It is generally acknowledged that Sandy Koufax has been consistently sensational. Don Drysdale has been sporadically spectacular and Ron Perranoski has been absolutely superb.

But the key pitcher in the Los Angeles Dodgers' quest for their first National League pennant since 1959 is southpaw Johnny Podres, the elder statesman of the staff.

The author of this sage observation is no less an authority than Alvin Dark, manager of San Francisco's defending champion Giants who today found themselves looking up at the run-away Dodgers from a fourth-place position eight full games behind.

It happened during the All-Star break. The Giants were then in second place, just three games behind the Dodgers.

"The National League race will go right down to the wire again unless Podres stays hot," Dark commented. "But if he keeps on pitching like he has lately it will be awfully tough to catch them."

In the past eight days, Podres has added three victories extending his winning streak to five in a row for an over-all 9-6 record.

His performance Thursday night in the Dodgers' 10-5 triumph over Pittsburgh was not as impeccable as were his other victories during the streak. But he allowed only one run until Roberto Clemente tagged him for a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

By that time the Dodgers had built up a 10-3 lead and virtually were assured of protecting their 6½-game margin over the runner-up Chicago Cubs, who earlier had beaten the Milwaukee Braves 3-2.

Cincinnati defeated St. Louis 6-3 to drop the third-place Cardinals a game behind the Cubs. San Francisco clung to its one-game edge over the fifth-place Reds by coming from behind to nip the New York Mets 6-5 and Philadelphia trounced Houston 3-1.

Maury Wills, back in his Most Valuable Player form of last year, drove in four runs with a single and double. The Dodgers hammered loser Earl Francis and four relievers for 14 hits but actually it was five unearned runs in a big sixth inning that proved to be the difference.

Dressen Wants Better Relief

DETROIT (AP)—A solid relief pitcher— "That's what I want more than anything else for next year," says Charlie Dressen.

"Better yet, I'd like two," said the Detroit Tigers' new manager.

"From the seventh inning on, the relief pitcher's the most important guy on the team."

Dressen employed four relievers Thursday in a desperate effort to hold a 5-0 lead. The Tigers wound up losing 8-6 to the Baltimore Orioles in 11 innings.

"I couldn't get anybody to stop them," said Dressen. "We need a good relief pitcher like that guy that won it for them."

The Orioles also used four relief pitchers. One was Stu Miller, the kind of killer reliever Dressen wants.

Miller handcuffed the Tigers well enough to let the Orioles catch up twice by scoring one run in six straight innings through the ninth. Then in the 11th Joe Gaines pinch hit for Miller and snapped a 6-6 tie with a two-run double.

The Tigers got to Miller for one run in four innings after he came in at the start of the seventh. The run, riding in on Billy Bruton's pinch triple, sent the Tigers ahead 6-5 in the eighth.

But the Tiger bullpen couldn't even hold the lead past one batter much less get three outs for a victory. John Orsino led off the ninth with a homer off Terry Fox.

Dressen tried Willie Smith, Don Mossi and Bill Faul in relief along with Fox. Each was touched up for at least one run with Faul taking the loss.

Alpena County First In State As School Unit

ALPENA (AP)—Approximately 7,000 students will flock to classes this fall in the Alpena Public School District—the first county-wide school district in Michigan.

Consolidation of county schools into a single district will create problems as well as solve problems. But in the main, Alpena city school officials and officials of eight districts which merged to form the single district are enthusiastic.

"We all have made a great step forward in our education program," says Lloyd McConnell, chairman of the citizens committee of the now defunct Long Rapids School District.

Eight of the nine former districts in Alpena County rejected annexation when it was first proposed. However, realization by citizens and educators that cooperation was necessary to provide adequate high school facilities to meet the county's population boom brought final approval by heavy majorities.

Double Enrollment
The consolidation of eight districts by annexation, the transfer of property in the county and the annexation of Presque Isle Township in Presque Isle County has resulted in an almost double enrollment for the Alpena Public School system.

The school district previously had provided high school and community college education for children throughout the county. Now the system will take over administration of elementary and junior high school programs.

Sanborn Township was the first county school district to approve annexation in January 1962. It was followed by Alpena, Ossineke, Long Rapids, Maple Ridge, Green, Wilson and Wellington Townships and Alpena-Maple Ridge Fractional No. 13.

Presque Isle Township had been annexed to the Alpena Public Schools in 1957.

The school district originally was known as the School District of the City of Alpena. However, with the advent of the annexations, the board of education selected the name, Alpena Public Schools, since it described the extent of the new district more adequately.

The original district covered slightly more than seven and a half square miles. The new district covers an area of approximately 618 square miles.

Staff Of 265

To educate some 7,000 students, the professional teaching staff has grown from 145 to 265. The service staff of secretaries, custodians, bus drivers and cafeteria workers will number 148.

The fleet of buses used by the school system will grow from one to 52.

In addition to problems of teachers and transportation, the new district is confronted by the problems of planning and constructing a new high school.

The present Alpena High School was built for 1,220 students. An enrollment of 1,700 is expected to be on hand this September.

Another problem is that of equalizing the educational program in all elementary schools throughout the school district.

This concerns the providing of a common school year, similar physical facilities, common text books, and the same basic curriculum throughout the school district.

A major factor in elimination of worries behind the consolidation, are plans to elect residents from the entire county to the school board.

Al Nickel, president of the old Sanborn Township board, already has been elected to the consolidated school board.

In a letter to residents of the new district, Donald Gillard, president of the Alpena School Board, said "It continues to be your school district—only the name has been changed."

Guard Camp Cost Set At 2 Million

CAMP GRAYLING (AP) — This year's two-week summer encampment of nearly 8,000 Michigan National Guardsmen will cost taxpayers some $2 million, officials said.

A $750,000 federal payroll will be handed out at Camp Grayling Friday, just before the troops troops head home.

Beside their pay from the federal government, enlisted men get $30 each from the state, bringing the total of federal and state dollars to about $960,000.

Food for the two weeks and cost to about $175,000; gas and oil costs about $50,000, and $50,000 goes for "miscellaneous expense," officials said.

The remainder of the taxpayers' cost for the Guard's summer camp is for ammunition—"several thousand dollars worth," a spokesman said.

Briefly Told
Application for a marriage license was made Thursday by Garland J. LaVigne of Isabella and Barbara Pelletier of Garden.

Dirty Lake Water Caused By Algae

LANSING (AP) — The Water Resources Commission says dirty water along the shore of Lake Michigan is caused by the disintegration of a form of algae, and not by sewage or other pollution.

The commission said it has reports of the material collecting at several locations along the lake shore.

Loring Oeming, executive secretary, said the material has been identified as Cladophora, a filamentous algae which flourishes around rocks and dock pilings. The decomposing material is unpleasant in appearance and odor, Oeming said, but is harmless.

Conformity Gives Educators Concern

ANN ARBOR—Thirty years ago we were worried about excesses of rugged individualism. Today we are concerned about the excesses of rugged conformity, Edgar Dale, professor of education at the Ohio State University, said at the University of Michigan.

"This is part of what lies back of our concern about team-teaching, the ungraded classroom, instructional technology, and now individualized instruction, Dale said.

"We must remember that the aim of individual instruction is to produce an individual who does not do everything the hard way. I don't think that it is stupid to be grouped, but thinking is always done by an individual, not by a group," Dale said.

Adequate Traffic Force Is Urged

By F. GRANGER WEIL

Editor

PORT HURON — This is a straightforward appeal for an adequate state police force to patrol our highways.

Just a few years ago we had nearly enough. Now—in plain words—by any set of standards—we don't.

This plea for more men is supported by the National Safety Council in its traffic inventory analysis for 1963 of the state's program and needs.

"To compare favorably with the top 30 per cent of the states reporting in our inventory program, Michigan would need to add 382 full-time traffic personnel," an NSC spokesman said.

The problem is one of money, of course. The crime and accident rates are climbing but budgets for police to enforce and supervise the laws have either remained static or been reduced. These are facts, even though they don't seem to make much sense. Come to think of it, the state has money enough for almost everything else but when it comes to law enforcement we permit our efficient, young troopers to operate at a minimum in numbers and with equipment of questionable adequacy.

Week Shortened

Being a state trooper these days is something of a vocation. Until Sunday, troopers were working a 56-hour, 6-day week. Now, by Civil Service Commission order, they are doing a 9-hour, 5-day week, with another three hours set aside for court appearances or emergencies.

At the moment there are fewer than 1,100 persons on the force, which is allowed 1,555 people. They have never been able to come up to the 1,555 strength because pay increases and insurance programs have soaked up the funds which would have been allotted to additional personnel.

And, the order reducing trooper working hours to 48 is in effect a cut of 1-7 in the strength of the force.

And, just to complicate the situation, there are 1,000 miles more of highways for the troopers to patrol. A good portion of this mileage is in expressways.

State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs has said—and hold on to your hats—that he should have 500 more men to meet his total needs, 382 of these for highway duty.

Money Is Need

The problem is simple. It's just lack of money. The legislature provides funds for a state public budget which won't do the job of protection that we here in Michigan ought to have...regardless of the fact that putting a few million more in an adequate state police force would save many times the number of dollars in prevention of property damage and personal injury.

Nor is there any water in the state police budget. Commissioner Childs is the type of man who asks for nothing more than what is absolutely necessary for his department. (Perhaps, this is his mistake. Maybe he should ask for twice or three times as much as he really needs in order to get what he wants!)

We risk our necks and our property by not providing for this fine and efficient police force. During the past few years the situation has deteriorated. Unless something is done—and done soon—this dry rot will continue until we have another state scandal by way of accidents and crime.

We are, in a nutshell, being penny-wise and pounds-of-flesh foolish.

Washington (AP) — Michigan's Democratic Sens. Philip Hart and Patrick McNamara say they are concerned over the probable impact of pending railroad merger proposals on the industrial and transportation future of the Midwest.

In a letter to President Kennedy Thursday, the two Michigan lawmakers and four other Democratic senators from Illinois, Indiana and Ohio suggested that special research is needed into problems facing Midwestern states through the mergers.

"Since the Midwestern states appear to have the most at stake on these merger plans," the senators said, "we believe the ultimate decision on them should, in part, be based on a solid body of factual information developed through adequate research."

The senators said it still has not been determined how much railroad plant would be left if the mergers are approved and whether the remaining railroad facilities would be adequate to meet the needs of the Midwest's expanding population, as well as defense needs.

They pointed out that the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads appears to concentrate the loss of facilities in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.
